

New Brunswick Liberal Government Down And Out

After Twenty-Five Years of Office Wave of Public Indignation Submerges Liberal Government

Peoples Answer to Pugley's Plaintive Plea

St. John, N. B., March 3.—Victory Opposition circles, and corresponding gloom in every government camp, was scored to-day by J. D. Hazen, who was carrying on the business of the province, led by Hon. C. W. Robinson, and have gone down with the wreck. Hazen, who was premier, was defeated by Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Federal Minister of Public Works. The Robinson government was hurried from power and a new government, with J. D. Hazen as premier, will soon be carrying on the business of the province. Hazen, captured in 1882, the government 17, and the three elected in Gloucester county on Monday are independent. How great the triumph in popular sentiment can be seen in the fact that when the public indignation for the conduct of the Robinson government held 35 seats and the Opposition 11. The figures are now practically reversed. It is a great victory for the Opposition. It is also a victory over the principle of federal interference in provincial affairs. The government party early declared the cabinet should be elected on federal lines, but the Opposition said "No." They contended that the New Brunswick politics stood apart from the Dominion issue, and that the question of federal interference was in contrast to these records of the government. Hazen had before the people, a platform on which he appealed for their support. The government party, however, continued to present federal issues. Hon. Pugsley came down from Ottawa to help the government, but it was noticeable that little resulted from this. The people had decided the Robinson government was to go and they showed this unmistakably to-day.

Police Committee Report

Your committee have carefully considered the charges against the Chief of Police which have been submitted to them, and have given every opportunity for evidence to be offered on these charges.

At an early stage in the investigation Mr. Lavell, on behalf of the Chief of Police, objected to any evidence being given on anything not covered by the charges submitted to us by the resolution of the Council, and this objection was upheld by us.

1. That Mah Deep paid money to the Chief of Police for protection from prosecution.

We consider that the evidence given by Mah Deep was not satisfactory. It was not consistent, and was not only denied by the Chief, but the important particulars were absolutely contradicted by several witnesses.

2. The charge that the Chief of Police was drinking at the Windsor Hotel while on duty and was in the bar at other times under the influence of liquor.

We consider that the charge of drinking while on duty and of being intoxicated is not proven. The evidence, however, showed that the Chief in one of two occasions spent more time in the bar room than was needed for the performance of his duty, and when not on duty he has been drinking, though not to excess.

We think this is inconsistent with the spirit of the police regulations, and think it should be understood that no city constable should loiter in a bar room, or participate in anything going on there whether on duty or not.

3. That he received cash money from Mr. Beauchamp.

This charge has no foundation.

4. That he received cash money from J. Kitchen.

We had that about Christmas time the Chief of Police received five dollars from James Kitchen, that at that time no charge was standing or had been at any time made against Mr. Kitchen and no ground existed to the knowledge of the Chief that any would be made against Kitchen. Kitchen clearly states that he was not asked for the money and did not suggest any improper reason while giving it.

We think that the Chief was most unwise in taking it, and laid himself open to being charged with wrong doing.

5. Acting improperly at the trial of Complaint of A. Garbe.

No attempt was made to prove the most serious part of this charge. We think the Chief acted somewhat indiscreetly and without a due regard for the responsibility of those who are making the risk.

On the whole we do not think that there is any ground for recommending the dismissal of the Chief, but we isied with the result, as it must mean better government for the province.

The Conservatives elected are as follows:

Albert County—W. B. Dickson and Geo. D. Prescott.

Kings County—J. A. Murray, P. M. Spry and C. B. Jones.

St. John City—W. Frank Hathaway, Robert Maxwell, John E. Wilson, Dr. McInerney.

Simsbury—D. H. Hazen and P. G. Lewis.

York—James K. Fisher, Harry P. McLeod, Thos. Robinson, and John A. King.

Queens—H. W. Wood and A. R. Slipp.

Carleton—F. Smith, J. K. Fleming and Donald Munro.

Norumberland—J. Morrison, B. McLaughlin, W. L. Allain, and D. P. McLaughlin.

Kent—Dr. T. J. Bourque, Dr. D. V. Landry, and Col. John Sheridan.

Charlotte—P. A. Hathaway, G. J. Clarke, W. H. Grimmer, and Dr. H. C. Taylor.

The Liberals carried the following seats:

Westmoreland—Robinson (Premier), Sweeney, Copp, Leggs.

Victoria—Tordella, Burgess.

St. John County—McKown and Lowell.

Restigouche—Lalibolle, Currie.

Madawaska—Martin, Clair.

Gloucester County elected a Turgon ticket of three Independents, Bryce, Leger and Sornay.

The ministers defeated are: Hon. L. P. Harris, commissioner of agriculture, who sat for Queens; Hon. W. P. Jones, Carleton; D. J. Purdy, without portfolio; St. John; and W. H. Allan, formerly claims agent for the E.C.R., who was lately taken to the cabinet as provincial secretary.

find that harmony does not exist among some of the police, and think there is ground for an investigation of the same and a revising of the police regulations.

Your committee therefore recommend that a special meeting of this council be held to take into consideration the whole evidence given in the investigation.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

EDMONTON TEAMSTER FOUND DEAD.

Yesterday evening at about six o'clock Joe Thompson, a teamster, fell off his wagon on the steep grade on Seventh street, Edmonton, and broke his neck. He had apparently become benumbed with cold, being only clad in light clothing. The body was removed to the residence of Mr. St. George Jellett; close by, and a message sent to the coroner, Dr. Braithwaite, who after an examination decided that as legwork was not mentioned, Thompson was about 25 years of age and unmarried. He was in the employment of the United Cattle Company.

The Lamb Medal

The Edward medal for heroism, in which awarded by the King to the late George H. Lamb for his gallant attempt to rescue his comrades at the time of the Strathcona mine disaster last June was last night handed to the dead man's sister, Miss Margaret Lamb, by the mayor of Strathcona-on-Tyne, with a message from His Majesty expressing a wish that she would wear it.

The medal bears on its reverse side a representation of the rescue of a mine with the inscription: "FOR COURAGE." The obverse represents the King.

Edmonton Defeats Saskatoon Again

The Saskatoon hockey team again met defeat at the hands of the Edmonton hockeyists by a score of 11 goals to 9, last night.

They started in by taking the lead after three minutes' play, but lost it almost immediately, the locals scoring in 5, 3, and 3 minutes. Saskatoon then took a state and at half time led by seven goals to three.

Edmonton scored a half minute after the game was resumed but Saskatoon came back with two more and led 9-4.

Edmonton then took the game on and from this point till the end had their opponents' target.

It was a very poor game and if either Saskatoon or Edmonton would play as they played last night against Strathcona, Strathcona would bury either of them out of sight and the officials would be in the last stage of senile decay before they could count the tallies.

The play was clean and offence, for which Bradford occupied the penalty box three times, Miller twice, and Crowley and Whitcomb once each, were very trivial.

The teams' and officials were:

Edmonton: goal, Batt; point, Campbell; Houlding, Banford; cover, Crowley; rover, Saunders; Whitcomb, centre; Cook; Dexton, left; Davies; Miller, right; Lewis; Boulton.

Referee—Barley; judge of play, Lewis; goal umpires, Mob Holley, Edmonton; Shillingham, Saskatoon.

At half time, Mr. O. B. Bush, the 20 yard skater of Canada, fresh from his victory triumph, skated Boulton a 50 yard sprint, trying to beat the Canadian record of 5.3 seconds; he succeeded in equaling it and under favorable conditions can easily lower it.

150 CHILDREN PERISHED IN FIRE (Special to The Chronicle).

Cleveland, Ohio, March 4.—A hundred and fifty school children were killed and a score injured in a fire in a new school at Collingwood, a suburb of Cleveland, yesterday.

City Council

A great portion of the time of the City Council last evening was spent in revising the estimates for the current year, which it has been found necessary to materially reduce, and little other business of general interest was discussed.

The following accounts, which had been passed by the city auditor, were read and ordered paid:

Strathcona Cattle Co.	$2.50
Cannibal & Lawrence	2.25
C. E. Cox	5.00
G. W. McAllister	3.00
W. F. Smith	5.25
R. J. McDonald	86.10
A. G. Baseline	18.75
P. Coyler	6.05
W. E. Ross	10.15
J. Gainer & Co.	.95
P. Burns & Co.	30.76
Oldfollies' Building Assn.	75.00
Strathcona Coal Co.	140.91
Edmonton Electric Light Dept.	22.00
D. Higgins	10.50
McCombs Hardware Co.	42.95

It was resolved that the sum of $500, which had been asked as a contribution towards the cost of a bridge on the new River Heights road be granted on condition that the government contribute the remainder of the cost, and that the bridge be raised to the level of the R. V. & P. Railway.

Strathcona Mine is in Full Operation

Last week the local branch of the United Mineworkers of America issued a hand bill requesting miners to keep away from the Strathcona Coal Company's mine, and charging the company with breaking an agreement made last December between the union and the company. The mine superintendent informs us that this

Edmonton Also Scent a Civic Scandal

"I would not allow my warmest friends or my strongest supporters to continue in office if such statements as this were proved to be true about them." So spoke Mayor McDougall at the meeting of the City Council last evening in reference to a statement made a few weeks ago by Ald. Manson, regarding the commissioners.

Ald. Manson's statement was made in connection with the telephone question. The alderman was very strongly in favor of the Lorimer people, as his speech and attitude at the meetings, when the telephone question was discussed, amply proved. At the meeting referred to a few weeks ago, it was stated that, owing to the demands of the Lorimer people, work on the new telephone building had been rushed at a cost of $5,700 to the city, this amount being extra and entirely due to the haste asked by the Lorimer people. At that time Ald. Manson stated that the extra cost was due entirely to the bungling of the commissioners and that he could show that the extra cost was not $5,700 but $3,000.

Mayor McDougall, in referring to the matter, mentioned the rumors that had spread about the city in May and June the foreman of the department had drawn $8 per day, and he certainly thought it ought to be investigated.

Mayor Kelly here remarked that the foreman had been drawing $6 per day, which seemed correct.

Ald. McInnis said that during last May and June the foreman of the department had drawn $8 per day, and he certainly thought it ought to be investigated.

Finally, a committee consisting of the mayor and the public works commissioner, I made, and subsequently proceeded to repeat in substance the statement credited him above. He reiterated the charge with some degree of heat, and a few days later the mayor read the Bulletin's

The special committee appointed to inquire into the charges against the chief of police reported that they had found the charges to be unfounded. They found, however, that harmony did not exist among the police, and thought there was ground for investigation, and for revision of the police regulations. There was a footnote signed by the mayor, stating that he was unable to agree with the report. The report was adopted on the motion of Alderman Somersall, seconded by Ald. Cameron.

The estimates for the current year were revised in committee of the whole, and after the committee had reported to the council it was resolved that the chairman of the finance committee, the mayor and the secretary-treasurer be instructed to negotiate a loan of $50,000 on the security of the taxes for 1908.

Ald. Tipton gave notice that at the next regular meeting he would introduce a bill regarding machine lanterns and moving picture machines, regarding exits from public places of amusement, regarding the character of buildings, and requiring property holders to clean chimneys, etc.

The Council adjourned until Thursday evening.

charge is without foundation. The company are living up to the agreement and have never violated any of its conditions. The charge that no wages have been paid for two months is also denied by the employers, who state that all the men employed in the mine were paid in full to the 1st of February.

Some of the men walked out when the trouble arose, but a number remained. The places of the dismissed ones have been filled and the mine is working as usual.

count of the utterance of Ald. Manson which that Ald. showed to be incorrect, retreating his position as given above. Furthermore, Ald. Manson said he was ready to prove his statement.

His worship expressed the opinion that it was highly necessary that the question be investigated, otherwise the public would be at liberty to believe that no matter what was done by the commissioners the Council was willing to put up with it or afraid to deal with it.

Ald. McInnis wanted to know if the mayor wished a committee appointed to investigate the department of public works, and the mayor said he did.

Mr. Garney wanted to know if specific charges should not be formulated before the Council could proceed.

Ald. Anderson said he had heard these rumors floating around town.

The mayor thought that it was worth while to investigate the department as matters stood. He himself had heard the charge, that the foreman had been drawing $6 per day, which seemed correct.

Ald. McInnis said that during last May and June the foreman of the department had drawn $8 per day, and he certainly thought it ought to be investigated.

Finally, a committee consisting of the mayor and the public works commissioner, I made, and subsequently proceeded to repeat in substance the statement credited him above. He reiterated the charge with some degree of heat, and a few days later the mayor read the Bulletin's

CURRENT COMMENT

The hand writing is on the wall. Throughout the whole Dominion of Canada there is consternation in grim camps. The Marshall's, the Wagner's, the Leech's, and the Howey's, et hoc genus feel that their opportunities of plundering the public purse are vanishing like the mist from the mountain side. The innate honesty of the people that the Grists have enjoyed, befuddled, and exploited for years is asserting itself and the whole network of corruption and deceit is being exposed. The New Brunswick Liberals have held office for 25 years without a break, but the day of reckoning has come at last and they have been swept out of office in a great wave of public indignation. The Hon. Wm. Pugsley has received a faster and more thorough education than has been administered to the latter mal-administration that is only an earnest of what is still to come. Yesterday it was New Brunswick and Pugsley; tomorrow it may be Alberta and Oliver. It is no matchless victory, no narrow majority, no uncertain declaration but the clearly expressed and definite voice of the public declaring that chicanery, duplicity and corruption have had their day and must go. Make the most of your opportunity, old Minister of Interior. Laid out seed grain in respectability by the Leech's, coal lands to the Howey's, fat government jobs to the Wagner's, and pocketfuls of political perquisites to the Marshall's, for the hour is at hand when the opportunity of sap feeding will have passed, when the grafters and the healets will no longer be able to grow fat on the public purse and when political cleanliness and honesty will reign. Meanwhile the Conservatives in the West should heave themselves. What New Brunswick has done the whole West can do.

MORE OLIVERISM

(Montreal Star.)
Why Mr. Oliver wants to get into more trouble over the original document question, is past finding out. He now rules the original documents ordered by the Public Accounts Committee shall only be available for members which the committee is sitting. Now, this is exactly the only time when attentive members of the committee cannot make use of them. They ought to be able to take them away to some quiet corner and study them at a time when no imperative duty calls them elsewhere. But, if Mr. Oliver's latest ruling is to stand, the members will not be able to do this. They will not see the original documents until the committee meets when it will be too late to make use of them except by a most superficial and hasty examination. It ought to be plain to Mr. Oliver that tactics of this sort always arouse suspicion. Why should he not be entirely willing to have the members go over his original documents with a microscope and at the greatest leisure? No department convenience should limit the work of Parliament.

The subject to be considered at the Orange Hall to-night will be "The 22,300 Days in Prophecy." The meeting will commence at 8 o'clock. All are welcome.

MACKENZIE KING COMING TO ENGLAND.

Ottawa, March 4.—W. L. Mackenzie King, Deputy Minister of Labor, leaves to-day for England to lay before the Indian Department the views of the Canadian Government regarding Hindu immigration.

AN OMINOUS FOREBODING.

What is it that most ominously forebodes the defeat of the Federal Government at the next general election? It is the fact that those who were the main instruments to bring it into power have lost faith in it. No government can exist by graft alone. When honest and serious electors grow suspicious of a government it is doomed. Those who are supporters from motives of personal advantage alone cannot keep it in power. The history of every government, Federal or Provincial, proves this.

When the earnest and unpurchasable judgment of the people condemned the Rose government it fell. Upon what ground, then can the Dominion Government expect to retain power? It is a callous indifference regarding its pledges to the people it has added public sin for which no excuse can be offered, except the insufficient one that similar short-comings were charged to a preceding government. But the preceding government suffered the public penalty of expulsion from office. It has fully expiated its faults. How can the present government, that stands self-convicted of even more serious faults expect to escape the public penalty of expulsion from power?

The Liberal party promised:
Reduced Taxation,
Reciprocity,
Public Purify,
Decreased Expenditure,
Parliamentary Independence.

Land for the settler—not for the speculator.
Tariff Reform,
Senate Reform,
Prohibition, etc.

Not one of these solemn promises has been redeemed. The country has waited twelve long years while at each election the pledges have been renewed and a plea for more time set up. Is it any wonder that a waiting public has wearied of delay and despaired of fulfilment? Graft cannot save this government. The honest voters who believed in its professed principles feel that they have been flim-flammed. To callous abandonment has been added cynical disregard. If it is any wonder that support is being transferred and that election day is awaited by the people who will assert the sovereign right to say that such deception shall cease! The camp-followers cannot save any government when public confidence is broken and public confidence is broken. Nor can capious abuse by subsidized hirelings avert the public gaze from the facts, or injure those against whom it is so maliciously directed.

NO TRACE OF BANK ROBBERS.

Winnipeg, March 2.—Working without descriptions of the robbers who made such a spectacular and desperate effort to rob the Nema street branch of the United Bank Saturday night, the police to-day continued to apprehend to hold highwaymen.

Chief McRae stated that the police have not yet succeeded in getting a clue, and that no persons were under suspicion. When asked his opinion as to the perpetrators of the crime, the chief stated that he considered them to be bad men of the holdest type.

The fact that the robbers carried automatic revolvers strengthens the theory that they were well educated in the "breaking game."

LEOPOLD MAKES CONCESSIONS.

(Special to The Chronicle).
Brussels, March 4.—The Government have reached a complete agreement with King Leopold as to the Congo. Besides a treaty of annexation, the premier obtained other important concessions from his majesty. It is agreed that $200,000 shall be paid each year for fifteen years to the King from the treasury to be expended exclusively on hospitals and similar institutions in the Congo. One of the greatest concessions wrung from the King is the transfer of the control of the budget to Parliament.

Winnipeg, March 3.—L. Dolan, well known throughout the West as one of the pioneer C.P.R. contractors, and who was roadmaster for that company at Frank at the time of the great landslide, dropped dead in the Commercial Hotel here yesterday. He was also chief of police at Sandan during most of the lawless period of that mining camp. Later he was superintendent of construction of the Crown Nest branch. He was born in Ireland 65 years ago, and served in the British army and came west thirty-five years ago to Winnipeg by the Red River route. He was a well known man. A wife and two children are living at Sirdar, B.C.

When I made my appearance next morning in the market place and took my seat with my two attendants at a table by the corn measure, this reserve had so far impressed the people that the smiles which greeted me scarcely exceeded those which commonly welcome a tax collector. Under these circumstances we quickly settled to work, no one entering the slightest suspicion; and La Trappe, who could accommodate himself to anything, playing the part of clerk, I was presently receiving money and hearing excuses, the minute acquaintance with the routine of the business which I had made it my business to acquire rendering the work easy to me.

We had not been long engaged, however, when Fonceville put in an appearance, and, allowing the peasants aside, begged to speak with me apart. I rose and stepped back with him two or three paces, on which he winked at me in a very knowing fashion. "I am Monsieur de Fonceville," he said. And he winked again.

"Ah!" I said. "My name is not in your list?" "I find it there," I replied, raising a hand to my ear. "Tut, tut! You do not understand," he muttered. "Has not Gringuet told you?" "What?" I said, pretending to be a little deaf. "Has not Gringuet told you?" he repeated, reddening with anger, and this time speaking, on compulsion, so loudly that the peasants could hear him.

I answered him in the same tone. "Yes," I said loudly. "He has told me, of course, that every year you give him two hundred livres to omit your name."

He glanced behind him with an oath. "Man, are you mad?" he gasped, his jaw falling. "They will hear you?"

"Yes," I said loudly, "I mean them to hear me." "I do not know what he thought of this—perhaps that I was mad. But, finding every one laughing, with an oath, he turned on his heel and was out of sight in a moment."

I was about to return to my seat when a purpy, pale-faced man, with small eyes and a heavy jaw, whom I had before noticed, pushed his way through the line and came to me. Though his neighbors were all laughing, he was sober, and in a moment I understood why.

"I am very deaf," he said in a whisper. "My name, monsieur, is Philippon. I am a—"

I made a sign to him that I could not hear.

"I am the silk merchant," he continued pretty audibly, but with a suspicious glance behind him. Probably you have—"

"Again I signed to him that I could not hear."

"You have heard of me?" "From Monsieur Gringuet?" I said, very loudly.

"Yes," he answered in a similar tone, for, aware that deaf persons cannot hear their own voices, and are seldom able to judge how loudly they are speaking, I had led him to this.

"And I suppose that you will do as he did?" "How?" I asked. "In what way?"

He touched his pocket with a stealthy gesture, unseen by the people behind him.

"Again I made a sign as if I could not hear."

"Take the usual little gift?" he said, finding himself compelled to speak.

"I cannot hear a word," I believed. By this time the crowd was shaking with laughter.

"Accept the usual gift?" he said, his pale face perspiring, and his little pig's eyes regarding me balefully.

"And let you pay unequally?" I said.

"Yes," he answered. But this and the simplicity with which he said it drew so loud a roar of laughter from the crowd as penetrated even to his dulled senses. Turning abruptly, as if he had struck him, he found the place convulsed with merriment, and, perceiving in an instant that I had played upon him, though he could not understand how or why, he glared about him a moment, muttered something which I could not catch and staggered away with the gait of a drunken man.

After this the crowd hesitated to come forward even to pay, and I was considering what I should do next when a commotion in one corner of the square drew my eyes to that quarter. Then the crowd dividing and making way for him, I perceived the real Gringuet—Gringuet who rode through the market with an air of grim majesty, with one foot in a huge slipper and eyes gazing with ill temper.

On seeing me in my chair of state he merely grinned in a vicious way and cried to the nearest not to let me escape. "We have lost one rogue, but we will hang the other," he said. And while the townsfolk stood dumfounded round on he slipped with a groan from his horse and haled his two servants with him.

A glance showed me that if I would not be drawn into an unseemly brawl I must act, and mistaking Malignan's eager eye fixed upon my face, I nodded. In a second he seized the unsuspecting Gringuet by the neck, snatched him up from the chair and flung him half a dozen paces away. "Lie there," he cried, "you insolent rascal! Who told you to sit before your betters?"

The violence of the action and Malignan's heat were such that the nearest drew back affrighted, and even Gringuet's servants recoiled, while the market people gasped with astonishment. But I knew that the respite would last a moment only, and I stepped forward. "Arrest that man," I said, pointing to the collector, who was groveling on the ground, nursing his foot and shrieking foul threats at us.

In a second my two men stood over him. In the King's name," La Trappe cried, "let no man intimidate me."

"Raise him up," I continued, "and set him before me; and Curtis also, and Fonceville, and Philippon and Lescaut, the corn dealer, if he is here."

I spoke boldly, and so mighty is the habit of command that the crowd, far from retreating, thrust forward the men I named. Still, I could not count on this obedience, and it was with pleasure that I saw at this moment as I looked over the heads of the crowd a body of horsemen entering the square.

The lack of an instant, looking at the unusual concourse.

Then Malignan, seeing me, and that I was holding some sort of court, spurred his horse through the press and saluted me.

"Let half a dozen of your valets dismount, and guard these men," I said. "And do you, you rogue," I continued, addressing Gringuet, "answer me and tell me the truth. How much does each of these knaves give you to cheat the King and your master?"

"Curtis first. How much does he give you?"

"My lord," he answered, pale and shaking, yet with a mischievous gleam in his eyes, "I have a right to know first before whom I stand."

"Enough," I thundered, "that it is before one who has the right to question you! Answer me, villain, and be quick. What is the sum of Curtis's bribe?"

He stood white and mute.

"Fonceville?"

"I take no bribe," he muttered.

"Liar!" I exclaimed. "Liar, who devour widows' houses and poor men's corn! Who grind the weak and lay it in the King, and let the rich go free? Answer me, and answer the truth. How much do these men give you?"

"Nothing," he said, defiantly.

"Very well," I answered; "then I will have the list. It is in your shoe. It is in your shoe." I repeated, pointing to his gaiter foot.

"Disregarding his shrieks of pain, they tore it off, and looked in it. There was no list."

"Od with his stocking," I said loudly. "It is there."

He hung himself down at that, cursing and protesting by turns. But, remembered the trampled corn, and the girl's bleeding face, and I was inextricable.

Still no list was found.

"He has it," I persisted, "we have tried the shoe and we have tried the stocking, now we must try the foot. Fetch a stirrup leather and do you hold him, and let one of the grooms give him a dozen on that foot."

But at that he gave way; he flung himself on his knees, screaming for mercy.

"The list!" I said.

"I have no list! I have none!" he wailed.

Then give it me out of your head, Curtis, how much?"

He glanced at the man I named, and shivered, and for a moment was silent.

"Forty crowns," he muttered.

"Fonceville?"

"The same."

I made him confess also the sums which he had received from Lescaut and Philippon, and then the names of seven others who had been in the habit of bribing him.

Satisfied that he had so far told the truth, I bade him put on his stocking and shoe.

"And now," I said to Malignan, when this was done, "take him to the whipping post there and tie him up, and see that each man of the eleven gives him a stripe for every crown with which he has bribed him—and good ones, or I will have them tied up in his place. It is such men as these give kings a bad name. Take him away, and see you lay him well."

He sprang up then, forgetting his gout, and made a frantic attempt to escape. But in a moment he was overcome, and though I did not wait to see the sentence carried out, the shrill screams he uttered under the punishment reached me, and as I saw that Fonceville and his fellows were not holding their hands.

THE END.

THE COMING PLAY.

Concerning Irving Beers Co., in "The Noble Outcast," which occupies the boards at the Strathcona Opera House on Thursday night, the Saturday News states:

"A Noble Outcast" is a good type of melodrama, and full justice was done it. Mr. Beers again demonstrated his versatility, while Miss Hope showed a historic capacity which, joined with the possession of so excellent a singing voice, should enable her to travel far in the world of the stage."

Mr. Beers, who brought the "Comedians of Home" Co., to Strathcona, needs no introduction. Miss Cecilia Hope, the leading lady of "The Noble Outcast" Co., has won many laurels with her beautiful soprano voice and dainty, as well as emotional acting.

For over four years she has been principal parts in both Geo. Edwards and Chas. Dance's Opera Companies in England, and has treated her work artistically in every sense of the word. No one should miss seeing Miss Hope's third act in "The Noble Outcast," which is full of dramatic power and pathos.

Pain can be quickly stopped. A 25 cent box of Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets, will cure any pain, everywhere, in 20 minutes! Besides they are thoroughly safe. Painful periods, with women, neuralgia, etc., quickly cease after one tablet. Sold by all dealers.
